National School of Drama Bengaluru Centre

One Month Intensive Theatre Workshop at Vellore in Collaboration with Thiruvalluvar University

Press Release

The Bengaluru Centre of National School of Drama dedicated to Southern region started a well structured one year course in Acting from last year. The syllabus has been evolved with deep research about the cultural material present in southern part of India primarily, also taking inspiration from various other training methods. The course has been conceptualized to train new leaders of Indian theatre. This acting course will make the students capable to react to the theatre practice internationally with core strength of various methodologies to work beyond the boundaries of any form or style. National School of Drama has dedicated to create inter-cultural dialogue between practices, practitioners, connoisseurs and spectators.

The aim of the course is to train Modern Indian actor using traditional skills from classical, folk & tribal performance, music, dance, martial arts, playing various instruments among other skills. This is a pioneering programme to create a versatile actor for Indian scenario. Along with Modern and Contemporary Western training we have planned an immersion in traditional pedagogic system. I hope that this course will help in shaping the future of Indian theatre and the theatre of the world at large.

About NSD Bengaluru Centre

National School of Drama Bengaluru Centre

National School of Drama New Delhi expanded its activities when it set up Regional Resource Centre in Bengaluru. The Bengaluru Centre has since evolved into a full-fledged centre by completing its second edition of 'One Year Intensive Course in Acting'

The Bengaluru Centre syllabus is a result of an attempt in developing Indian method of acting by extracting acting methods from the best of traditional and folk performing forms of the South India attempting in creating complete and versatile actors. It has extracted the essence of acting mentioned in the Natyashastra from these powerful performing arts of South India and utilizing it in forming the modern actor using a very unique method of acting. Thus the Bengaluru Centre has developed a distinct and a unique style of teaching that is vastly different from its parent institution in New Delhi.

While the programme at the NSD Bengaluru Centre is based on the lines of the programmes of the mother institution in New Delhi, the Bengaluru programme also particularly focuses on traditional South Indian folk, art theatre and theatre training.

The essence of the classical, folk and the powerful ritual practises from the South Indian of Karnataka, Tamilnadu, Kerala, Andra, Telangana and Lakshaweepl are included as part of the training. This is a new attempt in understanding Indian theatre and thus laying new paths for the future of Indian Theatre.

The centre has now started the construction of its own Residential & Admin Block at Kalagrama campus, NSD Bengaluru Centre has now heading to its third batch (of full-time one year course). From this year onwards centre has also began "Dakshina Bharta Rangotsava" to facilities/ showcase the vibrant theatre from the region to its students and theatre enthusiasts in the city of Bengaluru. The Bengaluru Centre is also in process of starting a Three-year Diploma course to NSD Delhi in the near future.

Students here at the centre, while learning and understanding of the world theatre, it also strives to understand our own methods and faculties of regional performances and its acting skills with a practical approach. While the first batch students had an experience to enact in a play and learn its production skills.

To create new theatre enthusiasts NSD Bengaluru Centre organising intensive theatre workshop, as platform for the beginners with collaboration of Thiruvalluvar University conducting one month long production oriented workshop for Southern Indian students mainly Tamil, Malayalam, language speaking area, in this workshop known theatre personalities participating as expert at workshop to share their rich experience and also as a teacher.

Mr.Pralayan works as a Camp Director for this Theatre workshop at Serakkadu, Vellore, Thiruvalluvar University. The Theatre work shop starts from April 20th to May 19th, 2017.

Theatre Work Shop Related Matter

1. The Theatre workshop is open to all men and women between the ages of 18 to 30 years.

About the University

The Thiruvalluvar University was established at Vellore by Government of Tamilnadu in October 2002 under the Thiruvalluvar University Act, 2002 (Government of Tamilnadu Act 32 / 2002). The Post Graduate Extension Centre of the University of Madras, which was functioning in Vellore before 2002 formed the core of Thiruvalluvar University. In the University, every effort is harnessed to make Educational Institution as temple of learning. The aim of this University is to provide facilities for advancement in Research and dissemination of Knowledge with focus on the Economic and Social upliftment of the society. The Thiruvalluvar University has been seven departments, Tamil, English, Economics, Zoology, Chemistry, Mathematics and Biotechnology. 98 arts and Science College are affiliated to this university, of which 10 are government Arts and science colleges, 9 are aided Arts and science colleges, 3 are oriental title colleges, 72 are self financing Arts and Science Colleges and the remaining 4 are University Constituent colleges. A Post Graduation Extension Centre of this university is functioning at Villupuram.

Department of Economics

The Department of Economics was established during 1999 the Department offers M.A, M.Phil., Ph.D. Further, it is also a full-fledged Research Department, Offering Full-Time and Part - Time M.Phil, and Ph.D Programmes. The Department assists students in acquiring managerial, technical and leadership skill. A team of highly qualified, experienced and committed faculty member works relentlessly to ensure that students excel in their efforts.

About the Workshop

In this era of volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity, data based decisions have acquired great significance. One of the pivotal aspects of contemporary research is outcome orientation for societal development. Policy makers and strategic think tanks look upon the researchers for employing authentic data analysis techniques which help in predictive analysis based on historical data. The econometric methods and tools are instrumental whenever there is a need of finding the stochastic relationship in mathematical format. Econometric methods can be used in multidisciplinary research involving areas like business, commerce, engineering, physical sciences, biological sciences, medical sciences, geosciences & agricultural sciences etc. The econometric tools are helpful in explaining the relationships among variables. So there is a dire need to equip the researchers and faculty members with econometric analysis techniques focusing on panel and time series data. The present workshop has been designed keeping in view this important perspective. In this intensive, interactive and hands on workshop, the participants will get to learn the statistical forecasting and modeling tools.

Learning Outcome of the workshop

Participants will develop capacity:

- To examine the real-world problems using econometric techniques with the help of in explaining the relationships among the variables.
- To have advanced knowledge of unit roots and co integration in the context of panel data regression models.
- To apply Applied Econometric Analysis of Cross Section Data techniques of time series models Hands on experience on various models.
- Exposure on how the statistical techniques have been used in various good research publications.
